Spirit

There are many ways Pearce students let their spirit be known this year: pep rallies, poster parties, car caravans to games, and dress-up days. At the pep rallies, students gave their most to motivate the football team to win. At poster parties students showed up at someone's house to paint posters for the games and pep rallies; giving up their free time, though they did have fun doing it. The Wranglers led the car caravans to the games in the mighty J.J. Pearce red truck. There were lines of cars longer than ever seen before at Pearce, and the Richardson Police Department led the caravan at Homecoming. Dress up days this year included Western Day before the Lake Highlands game to "kick the Wildcats," and Tie Day before the Richardson game to "tie up the Eagles." All the spirit this year at Pearce left the students in good "spirits."

Football Games

After opening up the football season with a win, everyone sensed that our team's luck had changed and that this year had something better in store for us in the area of football. Spirit was definitely lifted and strengthened by the early Mustang victories. Of course there were some losses, but spirit still prevailed. Many Pearce students turned out at the games to cheer the Mighty Mustangs on to victory.

Part-Time Jobs

In addition to school activities this year, Pearce students discovered work other than school work. Students occupied more part-time jobs than ever before. This new kind of "homework" ranged from McDonalds to Neiman Marcus. Although we complained about not being able to get off work for Friday's game, Wednesday's poster party, or Tuesday's Young Life, that good 'ol green stuff, called money, was running through our hands. All in all, the part-time jobs really "paid" off.

Homecoming Week

Homecoming week was full of spirited school activities. There were either dress-up days or hall decorations every day. But, of course, the highlight of the week was the electing of the homecoming queen and her court. At the Mustang game, Tracey Brown was announced homecoming queen with Paige Billingsley as senior princess, Missy Tharp as junior princess, and Paige Blankenship as sophomore princess.

Pep Rallies

Through all of the shuffling of the pep rally scheduling, there were some things that were never lost in the shuffle. These things were student life and participation. No matter whether the rallies were scheduled in the morning, noon, or night, nearly every one attended. The cheerleaders, Pacesetters, band, and Flag Corps (and of course the student body) all joined in to make Pearce pep rallies number one.

Council Undergoes Changes

This year, the student council underwent several changes. The council was chosen in the third period classes, with one council member shared between two classes. This person was the representative of the two classes throughout the year. The members met approximately once a month during third period and reported to the classes the following day. They were active in Homecoming activities, dances, and various administrative duties.

The Band Played On And On . . .

To use a trite but true expression, this year's band must have been one of Pearce's best. Their biggest achievement was receiving first place at the Texas State Fair High School Band Competition. For a dozen years now, our band has been cheering us on at pep rallies, games, and other events. Although members change from year to year, the Mighty Mustang Band continues to entertain us again and again.

Bel Canto — Beautiful Singing

"Beautiful singing" is what the officers of Bel Canto represent. The officers for the A Cappella Choir were elected in the Spring of '79 and officers for the Concert Choir were elected in the Fall of the '79-'80 school year. The members attended Booster Club meetings and Choir Council meetings to elect new ways to benefit the choir. Under the new supervision of Woody Christman, this organization is larger than past years.

Choir Finds New Direction

Under the new direction of Director Woody Christman, the Concert Choir and A Cappella Choir became involved in many fund raising projects, including coupon selling, a pancake breakfast, working at several inventories and other projects. These were held for the annual Spring choir trip. The choirs held several concerts throughout the year, including singing at Baccalaureate. In addition to this, several members participated in UIL and Solo and Ensemble.

A Special Honor

The Forensic League, consisting of a total of eighteen members, competed one to two weekends of each month. The members competed in events such as debate, poetry, duet acting, and humorous interpretation. Trophies were given as well as points, at each tournament. To become a member of this exclusive club, a person must participate in speech tournaments and earn twenty-five points and also have a teacher's recommendation. There are four degrees of honor of which one can reach. To reach the highest degree one must have five hundred points and the members will then receive a plaque. All of the Speech Club officers participated in these speech tournaments.

Students Prepare For Journalistic World

"Quill and Scroll, the international honorary society for high school journalists, is dedicated to upholding the fine tradition of remaining inactive," said president Susan Drake. There really is not time for this club to do much else as members are usually busy with other projects. The requirements of this club are participating in either the annual or newspaper staff, and upholding a place in the top one-third of their class. In a more serious mood, Susan informed us that "the real purpose of Quill and Scroll is to prepare ourselves for the real journalistic world after high school."

The Pacesetters, headed up by Miss Lisa Owens, won the hearts of many, promoting Pearce's school spirit and performing at halftime at the football and basketball games. Motivation Is The Key Word

On the scene of most sporting events were the Varsity Cheerleaders. Led by Ann Pearson, the cheerleaders motivated the crowds and athletes through the 1979-80 sports seasons. Their undying spirit and pride in P.H.S. kept the ball rolling in times of despair. Through victory cries at pep rallies and alma maters, they gave us a feeling of oneness and unity. One can only imagine how quiet the school would be without the support of our cheerleaders.

Rah-Rah Sophs!

This year's sophomore cheerleaders demontrated their spirit while cheering on the B-team at their exciting football and basketball games. These ten girls attended the Southern Methodist University cheerleading camp during the summer, doing very well in competition. Our cheerleaders raised school spirit to what is believed to be the best ever.

Wranglers Provide Spirit

The Wranglers this year were a very dedicated and spirited organization. Many hours a week during football season were spent creating "run-through" signs for the football team. This consumed approximately 5-10 hours a week. They continued to show their effort at the basketball games and other sports events throughout the year. They added a lot of spirit to the 79-80 school year.

Devoted Workers

Deadlines, layouts redrawn five times, lost pictures, pictures that needed captions but really didn't deserve them, and more deadlines were all part of the 1979-1980 Mustang Annual Staff. The staff consisted of sixteen members who were assigned to different sections of the Annual. Each member put in many hours of long, hard work inside as well as outside of school to try and give Pearce an Annual its students could be proud of now and to look back on in years to come.

Varsity Football

"You will be proud of the team because I will be proud of the team."
Vince Lombardi

Every Friday night the stands were filled with anxious and excited fans cheering on the 1979-1980 Varsity Football team. The team started off its season by winning two games against Hillcrest and Duncanville. These two victories increased school spirit along with enthusiasm and excitement. The team spent many long hard hours training together and working to perfect each play. The members showed much improvement due to Coach Hilton Lambeth's vigorous off-season program and excellent training. Members' devotion and sportsmanship proved to be rewarding not only to the team but also to the fans who supported the team throughout the season.

Junior Varsity Football

"Regardless of what you put into it, every game boils down to doing the things you do best and doing them over and over again."
Vince Lombardi

A-C-T-I-O-N was the name of the game for this year's Junior Varsity Football Team. The action was always hard and always present whether it be on the field or on the sidelines. Every move on the field brought on mixed emotions from the fans. It was obvious that the members of this year's team were all out to play their best. These Mustangs worked hard and displayed much ability. Whether they won or lost, each game was filled with excitement that gave all a spark of hope. Also adding to this year's games was the enthusiasm of the fans. The sidelines were wild and hectic while most of the important decisions were coming from the coaches.

Seniors

Unity is the key word in describing the "Superclass of '80." It is the quality that kept us together and made us unique from all other classes.

More spirited groups were formed this year such as "The Mavericks," "Rowdies," "Rowdiettes," and the "Senior Spirit Society." The Seniors displayed their spirit by winning all the Homecoming events, attending poster parties, and organizing events to make their last year in high school a little more special.

The Senior class is the most unified group of students to hit J. J. Pearce in a long time. The memory of this group will linger on through many years to come.

Now our year has come to an end. Our faces will no longer be seen in the halls and classrooms of J. J. Pearce expressing feelings of happiness, anger, fear, relief, desperation, and always rowdiness. The impact of our presence, though, will be remembered by many. We made 1979-80 a memorable nine months, and we deserved it.

Allison,
You're cute! You have one of the most fantastic voices I've ever heard! It's gonna take you far! I've loved being friends! Have a good Summer & I love ya
Michelle Rock

Juniors

Memories of the class of '81 — fighting with the seniors for a pep rally victory and staring in awe when the sophomores won. Our "Zoo Crew" along with their "Keepers" led the rest of us in class spirit and rowdiness. We stuck together through everything, especially when our efforts to display American Graffiti failed to get us even a second place ribbon in the Homecoming hall decorations contest.

Though we were stuck in the middle, our junior class showed spirit through activity. Whether it be the drill team, Spanish club, DECA, or the Wranglers, the class of '81 got involved.

We're the class of '82 and proud of it! It took a while, but we forgot our junior high differences and became the Mustangs of '82! Ou unity was the most evident in our pep rallies. We started slow but on the fourth pep rally we got together and out-screamed, out cheered, and out-powered the juniors and seniors to our first pep rally win

We had juniors and seniors in our classes this year to contend with. This wasn't always to our advantage because they were always ready to exclaim "SAMMY" any time a mistake was made by one of us

Between first and second period there was this mysterious fifteen-minute break. At first we weren't quite sure what to do. We soon found the corral with its donuts to relieve hunger pains and the smoking lounge to relieve nicotine fits. There was also the library and media center to finish up the previous night's homework. Then, last but not least, just talking to friends in the halls

Every one was relieved to find that there was no detention hall this year. There was no getting up early to trudge to the dreaded punishment; however, demerits seemed to pile up faster and easier if we didn't have to serve a penalty for our mistakes

Many of us took drivers education this year. All of our dreams centered on the glorious day when we could drive . . . legally. In drivers ed., there were many nerve-racking incidents, but the instructor was always ready with his foot over the chicken brake ready to come to a jolting stop. What the simulators lacked in realism they made up for in personality

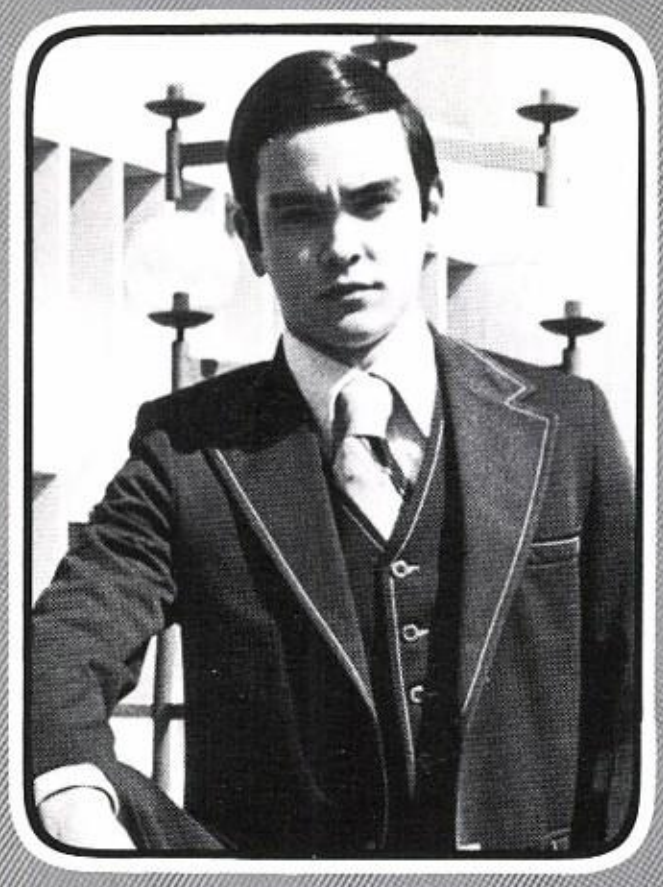
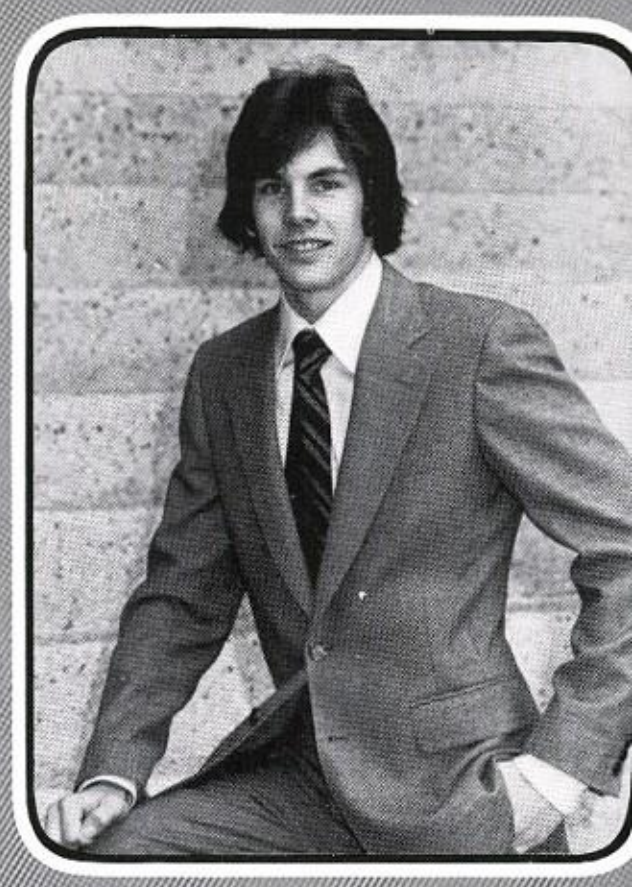
Who's Who At Pearce

Who's Who winners at Pearce were selected through a process of being nominated by teachers and later being judged by a committee of administrators, teachers and students. They were judged on the basis of grades, honors, activities, contributions above and beyond the call of duty, and cooperation with teachers and students. Out of the eighteen students nominated, these ten were chosen.

Eric Blake contributed to Pearce in many areas this year. While competing in Gymnastics and Swimming he was also active in the Student Council and the Junior Engineering.



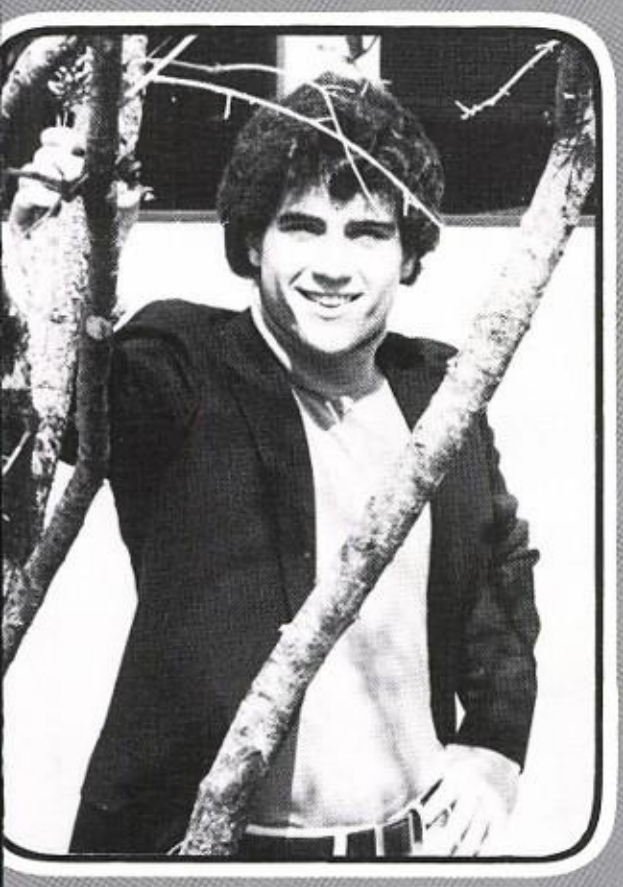
David Bonser was a major participant in organizations at Pearce. He carried out the enormous job of Editor of the Pony Express while also being a member of NHS, Quill and Scroll, and the Senior Play.



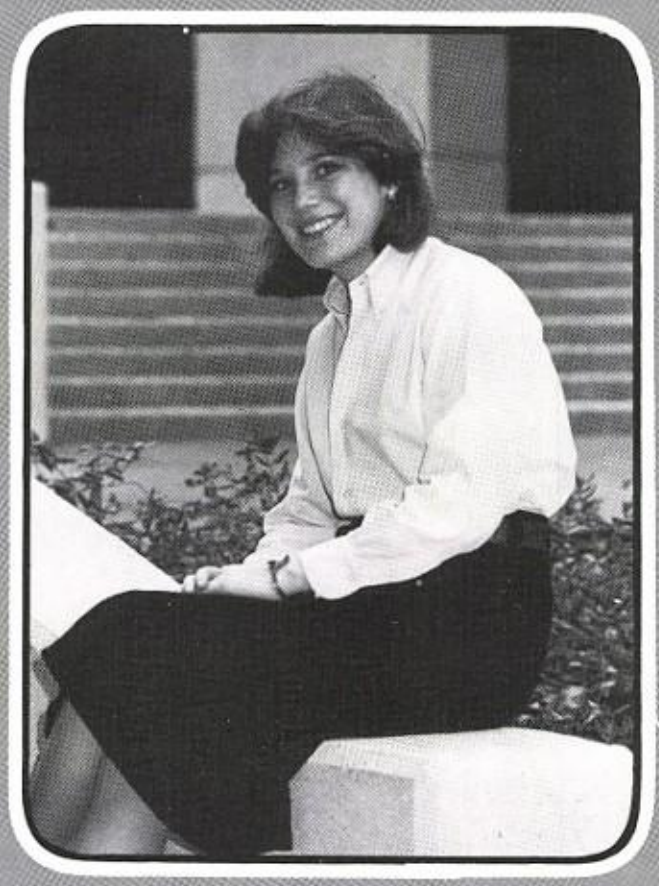
Jennifer Perdew, one of Pearce's most intelligent and dedicated students, was Vice President of NHS and was also involved in the Pre-Law Club and the French Club.

Jill Pullen, a well liked student by all, competed in Basketball, and was a member of NHS and the Student Advisory Council.

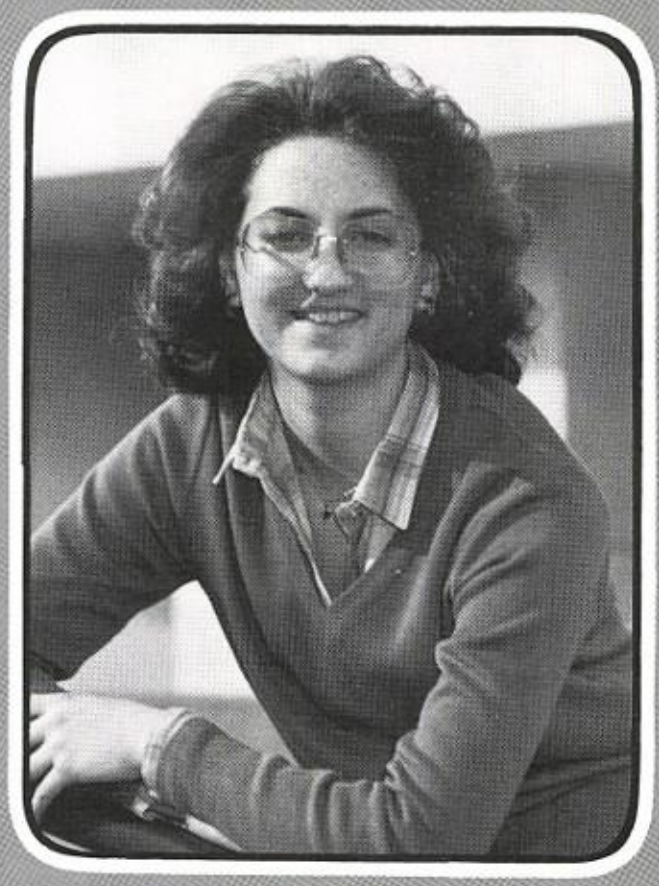
Bill Fay served the Senior Class as President. He was also a member of the Student Council, Football team, and the Senior Play.



RoseAnne Friedman, this years' Student Council President, was well deserving of this honor as throughout her years at Pearce she has made outstanding contributions. RoseAnne also competed in Tennis.



Dara Goodwyn was active at Pearce in the Student Council, the Senior Play and was also Treasurer of NHS.



Michelle Thrasher, one of Pearce's spirited Wranglers was active in NHS and the Senior Class.

SAVING TIPS
on electric air conditioning

Central Systems

1. Set thermostat on 78°, or higher.
2. Have equipment checked seasonally by qualified serviceman.
3. Check filter every 30 days. Clean or replace when dirty.
4. Keep furniture, draperies away from air outlets and returns. Clean grills often.
5. Close draperies and blinds to keep out sunlight.
6. Keep fireplace damper closed.
7. Proper home insulation keeps heat out, cuts energy use.
8. Weatherstrip doors and windows. Caulk cracks.
9. Keep windows closed. Open outside doors as little as possible.

Window Units
Follow above suggestions, plus these:

10. Buy units with highest "energy efficiency ratio" (EER). If EER is not on sales tag, ask for it or figure it yourself. Divide "wattage" into "BTU" capacity.
11. Place unit where it'll get as little direct sun as possible.
12. Aim air outlets at lower half of doorway to next room to allow warm air from that room to enter at the doortop for recooling, recirculation.
13. Never vent air conditioner into garage. Ventilation is usually too poor for top performance of your unit.

Conserve electricity and you help conserve one or more of the fuels needed to produce it. Conserve fuels and you help assure that there will be enough to meet essential needs for electricity in the future.

If you would like additional information on conserving electricity, call the Customer Service Representative in the TP&L Office.

Allison,

I could probably talk for hours about all the wonderful & special times we've shared together. Each one means so much to me. And I believe the true test of our friendship was our soph. & jr. years when we hardly talked at all. Because of those times we'll always be close. You have helped me so much in so many ways - how could I ever repay you! The main thing is I know I don't have to because I never could. Friendship is like any relationship - there has to be giving & taking on each person's part. I can only hope I have been able to give you something. Who knows what?! Anyway, Allison, I am thankful to God for our friendship because I know that only He could let two people be as close as we are. And only He could bring us together after two years. I'm glad we're both going to be here next year. Best luck Allison, & remember - You've got a friend!

I love you,
Karla

Special thanks to the dedicated members of the 1979-80 Mustang Annual Staff for sacrificing their time, sweat, grades, and part of their sanity. I enjoyed working with all of you. I would also like to thank Mr. Acie Mitchell of Taylor Publishing Company for his support, assistance, and patience; Stringfellow Photography; The Studio of Olla Podrida; Al's Formal Wear; The University of Texas at Dallas; The Magic Time Machine Restuarant; The Color Place; and, of course, our wonderful adviser, Miss Kathy Dove.

Allison,
The year has really gone by too fast for me. I just wonder how choir will be without all of you seniors. I wish we could have been better friends this year. I will always feel that I have missed something for not being able to know you better. Have fun in what ever you do!
Good Luck to you always,
Love ya,
Kelly Summerlin

Well, looks like we made it! Its finally over! What a good thought, but at the same time what a thought. Well, I may never see you again, so take good care of your self. And Good luck in School. May God bless you for your efforts!

Love Jill C. Sandstrom.

Allison,
I'm glad we had some classes together. Spanish was a lot more fun than Geometry. Do you really care if the Zeta's recognize you? Have a fun summer.

Good Luck,
Kate

I must say you can make the most boring class fun. All kidding aside you are one hell of a hope you have fun on your cruise this summer. Whatever you do don't show this to Mrs. McBee she will kill me for my grammar. Well I hope you have a very fine life but then you do die think about me.

Mark Bundrall
P.S. What does Wambly mean?

Allison,
In the rating of guys I put you third behind Pat Ginty (see page 256) and Lisa. Seriously, I wish you good luck on future after graduation. Have fun this summer.

Matt Sims

Allison,
I'm really sorry that I was such a jerk in school. I'm really glad that we finally got to talk. I wish we could have talked more. Maybe we will have a class together next year. Have a good summer.

Sincerely,
Susan Reinhardt

Allison,

fun this year in chemistry with you. I'm really glad I met you! I wish you the best of luck next year and have fun on your cruise!
